

Research and Publication Colloquium

Challenges in post-industrial labour markets

In the context of post-industrial labour markets, we witness manifold challenges and developments. Be it in terms of new risk structures, adverse outcomes or changing institutional settings. In this colloquium we would like to gather scholars interested in labour markets and their interrelation with society to discuss their research and provide a platform to get feedback on their work-in progress.

Topics of interest could include among other questions linked to:

- New forms of social inequality and compensation demands resulting from changing labour market structures. What strategies do governments apply to re-insert long-term unemployed, immigrants, or individuals with obsolete skills into an increasingly competitive labour market? What kind of outcomes do these policies have on different groups?
- The consequences of competitive labour markets on the appointing strategy of companies. What kind of strategies do employers apply when choosing their collaborators and what kind of discriminatory patterns may arise as a consequence?

Schedule autumn 2017

Date	Authors	Paper title	Discussant	Room IDHEAP
22.08.2017	Delia Pisoni University of Lausanne	Activating the most disadvantaged: administratively too risky, politically too costly	Benita Combet	004
05.09.2017	Rafael Lalive University of Lausanne	Is Social Search an Effective Search Channel?	Eva Zschirnt	004
26.09.2017	Benita Combet and Daniel Oesch, University of Lausanne	The gender wage gap in early careers. Evidence from a youth cohort in Switzerland	Anna Wilson	003
10.10.2017	Rosita Fibbi and Eva Zschirnt University of Neuchâtel	An ongoing correspondence testing: methodological considerations and first results	Fabienne Liechti	006
31.10.2017	Daniel Kopp und Michael Siegenthaler KOF, ETH Zürich	Evaluation of short-time work benefits in Switzerland	Rafael Lalive	004
14.11.2017	Isabel Baumann ZHAW Gesundheit	Measurement error in the assessment of retirement age: a comparison of Swedish survey and register data	Damaris Rose	004
05.12.2017	Anna Wilson University of Lausanne	Employer characteristics and preferences for apprenticeship candidates in dual vocational education and training	Mailys Korber	003
12.12.2017	Aurélien Abrassart University of Bern	A question of perspective: occupational prestige ranking by educational requirements and individual educational attainment	Giuliano Bonoli	003

Organisation:

The colloquium entails a presentation of the paper for max. 20', then max. 10' comments by a discussant and 30' general discussion. The paper to be discussed will be circulated 7 days in advance, to give the discussant and the participants enough time to prepare their comments.

The colloquium will be held ca. all 3 weeks on Tuesdays from 12.15-13.15. We provide sandwiches for the participants.

If you are interested to attend the colloquium and thus getting the papers in advance, or you would like to present a paper next semester, please register/contact Fabienne Liechti by sending an email to fabienne.liechti@unil.ch. For additional information refer to our homepage: www.unil.ch/idheap/LMC